

Lumen launches Ember Ridge, a washed single origin from Guji, Ethiopia

Portland, Oregon, 8 October 2026. Lumen Coffee Roasters today releases Ember Ridge, a washed single-origin coffee from the Guji zone of southern Ethiopia, grown at 2,100 metres.

Ember Ridge is roasted light-medium to keep the character of the farm in the cup: bergamot, ripe apricot and cacao nib, with a bright, tea-like body and a long cocoa finish. It suits filter brewing and espresso.

“We roast lighter than most because we want you to taste where the coffee came from,” said Mara Okafor, Head Roaster at Lumen. “Ember Ridge is the clearest example of that idea we have roasted so far.”

Ember Ridge is sold as whole bean in 340 g (12 oz) bags, roasted to order and shipped within a week of roasting. The launch also introduces the new Lumen identity: a sun ring for light and a bean for the craft.
